

Leaders not Managers create Change

(The following excerpt was displayed in the Canara Bank in Vrindavan, India. We could learn something from these simple words in a time where managers seem to be the perceived solution to all problems)

- A Leader innovates
- A Manager Administrates
- A Leader Develops
- A Manager Maintains
- A Leader focuses on People
- A Manager focuses on Systems
- A Leader inspires Trust
- A Manager relies on Control
- A Leader has a long range Perspective
- A Manager has a short range View
- A Leader asks What and Why?
- A Manager asks How and When?

(Roger Fritz)

- A Leader is an entrepreneur. He builds the business of tomorrow.
- A Leader has vision. He harbours the lofty, soaring, abstract and still practical notions.
- A leader is passionately committed to his goal and does everything with obsession.
- A Leader catalyses group synergy to achieve thriving success.
- A Leader's goal is to create a winning team.
